Harmony in New Mexico has resulted in fastening the gang collar on the people tighter than ever.

Today is the 132nd anniversary of the adoption of the American Flag, and is being celebrated as Flag Day.

The Pecos Valley has not only the largest artesian wells in the world, but also has the most fertile land to go with them.

Mrs. Russell Sage is a good spender just as her husband was a good accumulator, but it is to be hoped there will be considerable difference in the methods employed.

The Republican party construes its pledge to revise the tariff downward to mean upward. Just what could be expected of the Republican party. The only safe way in dealing with that party is to consider that it means exactly the opposite of what it says.

In all likelihood the prohibition question will bob up in Santa Fe in the spring elections next year. It is understood that the temperance people are planning a campaign to elect a majority of the council pledged to oust the saloons. Something of the kind might be well done in Roswell.

The Record is frequently in receipt of pamphlets boosting this or that enterprise in the valley. Many of them are at once consigned to the waste basket, being printed away from the valley. People who spend their money for printing away from Roswell need expect no complimentary notices from the Record.

During the past twenty-four years the naval establishment of the United States has cost the enormous sum of two and a quarter billions of dollars. Just think of the Panama canals this would build; what magnificent public buildings could be erected with this vast sum or the thousands of miles of roads that could be constructed.

Artesia is evidently growing some. The school superintendent reported the percentage of school attendance to be 114, and the figures were correct. This peculiar condition of affairs arose from the fact that the percentage of attendance, which is calculated at the end of the year is based upon the school census taken in the spring and thus the Artesia report shows a large growth.

COMMISSION PLAN DROPPED.
Santa Fe, better known as the Ancient City has a hard time keeping in the limelight. Now that its local option campaign is a dead issue and the agitation for the commission form of government is dying out, the report comes that a "mammoth" rich gold strike has been made at Nambé Falls twenty miles north of the capital. If the gold find proves genuine then may be the capital site will be moved to Nambé.—Las Vegas Optic.

Santa Fe people have evidently been catching on to the provisions of the Commission Plan bill as passed by the late lamented legislature.

DR. GRAY IS NAMED THE PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY.

The board of regents of the University of New Mexico at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the office of Dr. James M. Wroth, treasurer of the board selected Dr. Edward McQueen Gray, of Carlsbad, N. M., to be president of the faculty, says the Albuquerque Journal of Thursday morning. Dr. Gray, who was connected with the university during the closing months of the last semester is already thoroughly familiar with the work of the institution, and will take over the active direction of its affairs at once. The selection was made by the board after consideration of a long list of educators from all parts of the United States who had entered applications for the position and was influenced largely by the board's thorough knowledge of Dr. Gray's high standing as a scholar, his thorough familiarity with conditions in New Mexico and his familiarity with the work of the institution which will relieve him of many of the difficulties which might have attended the introduction of an entirely new man to the position.

Dr. Gray is so well known personally throughout New Mexico that little comment on his selection to the direction of the university affairs seems necessary. The students who have to testify to his great ability in arousing interest in educational work and in obtaining results. It is not generally known however, that Dr. Gray's record in the way of university honors is an extraordinary one and probably unsurpassed in this country. He is a graduate from the great University of London, sometimes called the "In-fidel University" on account of its wide departure from the orthodox old institutions of Oxford and Cambridge, and is also octuple honor man of that institution and probably the only one in its history. His scholastic achievements are in every way remarkable. He has also had experience in administration, having been head of a military school in the Island of Jersey for five years during which time every candidate therefrom sent up for public examination was successful. He has done a great variety of educational work and is a writer of distinction in varied fields of literature.

Although an Englishman by birth Dr. Gray has been a resident of New Mexico for about twelve years and is thoroughly identified with the territory. Like many English university men he has contemplated entering the ranks of the clergy, but it is now understood that he has definitely abandoned that intention. He has at times been called Rev. McQueen Gray, but he has never been entitled to the prefix of "Reverend."

Dr. Gray is now in Albuquerque and is preparing to take up the direction of the university affairs at once.

The board at its meeting yesterday afternoon took no further action aside from the selection of the new president, save to elect Mr. G. R. Roberts

Yellowstone Opens.
Cheyenne, Wyo., June 10.—Yellowstone Park was opened today, ten days earlier than usual, and will continue for two weeks later than customary, owing to the immense number of Western visitors induced by the Seattle exposition.

ANOTHER CHINK SMUGGLING CASE ON TRIAL AT CHICAGO.
Chicago, June 11.—John T. Priddy, U. S. Customs inspector at El Paso, Texas, was a witness in the Chinese smuggling cases today. He told of the capture of Jose Parra and Carlos Sedra, two of the octette in charge of smuggling Chinese across the border. Priddy said the men were captured while bringing two Chinese across the dry river bed.

Instruction Camp.
Concord, N. H., June 14.—A camp of instruction for the National Guard of the state was opened on the state reservation today.

THE ST. LOUIS WINNER OF THE BIG BALLOON FLIGHT.

New York, June 11.—The balloon, University of the City of St. Louis, with John Berry and John McCullough aboard, is the winner of the national balloon contest which started at Indianapolis on Saturday. Official reports show that the balloon traveled 382 miles, landing six miles south of Fort Payne, Miss.

Grand Army Ladies.
St. Paul, Minn., June 10.—Mrs. Lane national president, will address the seventeenth annual meeting of the Minnesota Ladies of the Grand Army convened here this morning.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT.
Mrs. Frederick R. Jolly, a recent acquisition to Roswell's musical talent, will appear at the M. E. Church, South, June 14th, as soloist with the Symphony Society. Those who have heard Mrs. Jolly sing are full of praise for her beautiful voice and fine execution. It is indeed seldom that there is combined in one voice such sweetness and such breadth and power. Her voice is of a highly cultivated Dramatic Soprano and reminds one of Madam Gaski of the Metropolitan Grand Opera. Mrs. Jolly has pleased audiences in many of our large cities and should be greeted by the full seating capacity of the M. E. Church. 3812.

Miss Hollie Kinsinger left Sunday morning for Wichita, Kan., to attend the alumni meeting of the Mount Carmel Academy, of which she is an alumnus. From there she will go to Kansas City to visit Miss Carolyn Shaver, formerly of this city, and will be gone a greater part of the summer.

It's Clean, Too

COTTOLENE is simply a combination of the finest cottonseed oil and prime beef suet. Everyone is acquainted with beef suet—the most digestible of all animal fats.

Cottonseed oil is very much like olive oil, the only difference being that the Fairbank process of treating cottonseed oil makes it much milder in flavor. These vegetable oils are exceedingly wholesome—being prescribed for the diets of dyspeptics and consumptives as flesh builders.

COTTOLENE is therefore a FOOD as well as a frying and shortening medium. How about lard? Do physicians prescribe it (or any pork products) to invalids?

The most critical cannot taste whether food is cooked with COTTOLENE or with lard and butter. Indeed, the cook has to be clever to use lard with as successful results as COTTOLENE.

COTTOLENE is used alone, or with part butter, for making cakes. It cannot be equalled as a shortening for biscuits, pie-crusts, etc.

COTTOLENE produces best results in all kinds of frying—giving doughnuts, potatoes and meats just the right color and flavor—WITHOUT greasiness.

—And food cooked with COTTOLENE is Digestible.

to life in the air tight aluminum compartments in which they will be penned for the greater part of their flight to signal Mars.

"One of the things that we have settled is the question of ballast which has been troubling us," said Mr. Stevens. "It will be impossible for us to handle sand or anything of that sort. We have concluded therefore to carry water as ballast, which will be released by stop cocks in aluminum boxes. The balloon will have a lifting power of two and a half tons and by throwing over a quarter of a ton of ballast will send the balloon up 1,000 feet."

Mr. Stevens and the professor have placed orders in France for a special barograph and other instruments for their flight. Ten miles of a specially made wire will be paid out, so that the two men can keep in touch with the earth. This will weigh about 200 pounds.

"We do not expect to be obliged to resort to our aluminum tanks," said Mr. Stevens, "until we have attained a height of five miles or more. The highest altitude I have ever reached is four and three quarter miles. Frenchmen went up eight miles and a quarter about a year ago, but one of them was frozen to death and another paralyzed. They were not prepared for such a height and we will be."

Firemen's Day.
Newark, N. J., June 17.—All kinds of quaint old fire fighting appliances were exhibited today in the parade attending the formal inspection of the new home of the Association of Ex-empt Firemen. Firemen from many states and thousands of other visitors were here.

Capitol Graft Case.
Harrisburg, Pa., June 14.—The Pennsylvania Capitol graft case, involving charges of wholesale frauds perpetrated by Architect Joseph M. Huston and others in the construction of the state building here, is listed for trial today at the opening of the June criminal sessions. The defense will probably ask for further delay.

Mrs. Carl Leopold and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Johnson, the latter of the South Side Market, left this morning on a trip of five or six weeks to Albuquerque, Phoenix, San Francisco, Seattle, Salt Lake and Denver.
